HELP ON TOPIC SHOW COMMAND

This prompt line instructs the system how to show you what topics are available in this section. The following commands affect the listing of topics:

<A>ll

This command tells the system to show all topics which are available. The topics will be listed by topic path, and each topic is numbered. Any topics you have joined are shown with a leading asterisk (*) character.

<J>oined

This command tells the system to show only those topics which you have joined. The topics will be listed by topic path, and each topic is numbered.

<O>thers

This command tells the system to show only those topics which you have NOT joined. The topics will be listed by topic path, and each topic is numbered.

<H>elp

Displays the help file you are currently reading.
